Patricia Ann Pope Haworth was born January 24, 1953 in Alexandria, VA to the late Myers R. Pope, Sr. and Marion H. Pope. She was baptized at an early age. You knew she was a child of God by the way she talked and lived.

Early Morning

Pat attended the public school system in Alexandria, VA and graduated from T.C. Williams High School in 1974. She then furthered her education by obtaining her certificate as a Nurse's Aide. At an early age she joined the Unification Church in Washington DC. During her church journey she often would be near a relative from her Aunt Esther in Washington, DC, to her sister Lena in Baltimore, MD, to Cheverly and New Carrollton, MD near her sister and brother, Shirley and Mike. Patricia, Pat, Aunt Pat, Hattie, all the names she answered to. A smart, caring, giving, loving, sister, aunt, cousin and friend. Patricia loved children with a passion and was at her best with them. Most of her jobs were at daycare centers where she could be around children. She often talked about wanting a child, but it was not to be.

Midday

As a woman of peace, Pat participated in many ceremonies to bring healing with women from Japan, in programs sponsored by the Women's Federation for World Peace. She was also a peacemaker through her deep love, wisdom, and heartfelt involvement in interracial reconciliation group meetings. On August 24, 1995, she was blessed in marriage to Larry Haworth. They had met each other at a healing center being run by Unification Church members for others members of the church. They became healing partners, then friends, then went to the marriage Blessing together. Hattie, as she was fondly called by her husband, had 16 years of love, joy, and happiness with Larry. He testifies that she saved his heart, his life, and his soul with love and faith.
